Salary Cut Off, but the Building Commissioner Expects to Pay Him Out of Future Appropriation.

F. W. Klusmeyer, husband of Mayor Elegenbein's former servant girl, who has retained his position as local superintendent for the department of the Commissioner of Buildings, despite the fact that his salary was cut from the appropriation bill has been officially "turned down" by the Board of Public Improvements.

Mr. Klusmeyer's salary terminated on August 1, and no provision was made in the appropriation bill to continue the salary of $5 per day for a local superintendent, but Commissioner of Public Buildings Longhusband of the Mayor's former servant girl at work, intending to pay him out of the appropriation which he expects to get.

The local superintendent has been accustomed to place his "O K" mark on accounts which came under his supervision, and recently be affixed his signature to some bills which were to be sent for approval to President McMath of the Beard of Public Improvenients. When the bills reached Mr., McMath's office, the cierks in there recalled that Mr. Klusmeyer's sulary had been omit ted from the appropriation bill, and they concluded that the local superintendent was acknowledgment that Kludneyer is a city employe, and thus the city might be liable for Klusmeyer's salary. Accordingly, word was sent to Commissioner of Public Buildings Longfellow that Mr. Kinsmeyer's 'O.K.' to bills would not be in favor in the office of the Board of Public Improvements, and the local superintendent, in conse-quence, no longer signs his initials or his quence, no longer signs his initials or his name to bills payable.

"Mr. Klusmeyer," said Mr. Longfellow, "has been paid up to August 1. He is an effectent man as local superintendent of public buildings, and 1 kept him in service at his own risk. I propose to ask for another appropriation and will pay him out of that. I understand that Mr. Klusmeyer married the Mayor's former servant, but that had nothing to do with my retaining him. He nothing to do with my retaining him. He was an employe of this office when I ussumed control."

It is intimated that a relief bill will be sent to the Municipal Assembly to provide the local superintendent's salary, if the Commissioner of Public Buildings should fall to procure an additional appropriation.
